Kim Jong I – How to be a Militant being Debated – from North Korea, a Poor Old Country following Korean Language These Days in Old Philological Manners and being more into Hegel, than news.

By Kim Jong I

I. I argue Hegel is perfect

Just continue admiring legalism and Hegel. I mean it is that efficient and perfect and elegant. Learnt it from Sirohi, the art so arcane.

II. I argue Marx is competing now, we have to prove militant thesis again we argue, we have proved it in an Achilles manner once

The Achillean argument is –

Red Book has theses, now Achilles nails it as objective and exact.

III. We add Conceptualism of Descriptive Intellectual Style

Be conceptual. Sharpen your conceptual weapons as it were. Or be more into theory. Just be conceptual, just follow the Concept.

I mean Conceptual stuff will prove to be like Theory. Follow it daily.

I also mean we are in the Marx and Hegel debate as well. For us it is Marx.
